

English week 5 Homework

Complete the given tasks

Let's Write a non-chronological report. You have watched the video about the features. Let's use them.

Write a non-chronological report about the Arctic. Find some facts about the region and then put them in order.

WAGOLL of a non-chronological report.

Space School

Welcome to Space School! A revolutionary, magical and futuristic school for all children! Built in 2025, Spacer School was the first of its kind. The principal (Mr Cooper) had the idea of building a school in space whilst watching a space program on TV. Over time, the school was built and is now the largest school in the universe! There are more than 5000 pupils from five to eighteen years old, who travel to school on space crafts ready to learn and play.

Lessons

During the day, children attend a variety of exciting futuristic lessons that teach children all kinds of exciting things. Firstly, in the morning, children go to Literacy lessons. This lesson is taught by Mr Blabberbox. These lessons are similar except the pupils do not learn English, they learn an alien language called Tron! When children start at five years old they do not know how to speak Tron at all but by age eighteen ALL pupils know how to write, read and talk Tron! Would you like to learn an alien language? Other lessons include, space cooking (how to cook food in space), star gazing and (this is my personal favourite) Sci-Fi games! Sci-Fi games is a little bit like PE but you never stand on the ground! During these lessons, you get your own hover craft and fly around space with a soft ball whilst everybody tries to score in the opponents net! How cool is that!?

Lunch Times

When the school bell rings for lunch, everybody rushes down to the school canteen to buy their favourite lunches. They do not have normal food in space because it would all float around and make the school extremely messy. In Space School, they obviously eat space food! These look like tiny blocks of different colours. On your plate you will see baked beans (the red block), chicken (yellow block), broccoli (the green block) and blueberry pie (the purple block). Sometimes it is a little dry, however no one seems to mind because space is cool!

Play Time

Play time at Space School is THE BEST playtime ever created! There are so many amazing activities you can take part in. Unusually, there is no playground because there is no gravity so no one can stand up. Instead, everybody puts their space suits on and floats around playing space ball or skipping in the air! Tig is even more fantastic in space because everybody uses space rockets to zoom around and catch each other. It sounds dangerous but it is not, they all wear safety gear.

Would you like to join the space school? Which lesson would you like best? If you could go to any type of school, which school would you go to?

Word of the week

- Desolate
- What does it mean?
- Use it in a sentence.

Spellings to learn

- cautious
- ambitious
- fictitious
- infectious
- nutritious
- available
- forty
- twelfth
- hindrance
- government

Use these words in sentences.